Baby Moccasins

Warm, toasty, cozy, and looking cool. Taking just a few steps to make, the design possibilities are endless. Play with fabric, leather, felt, etc. and embellish with embroidery, glitz, or anything you like. This is a great project for using up remnants, too. Once you make a pair, you won't want to just stop there. After all, when those little piggies come back from market, they like to slip into something comfortable.

Baby Moccasins

step one

- Embroider the moccasin tops
  - ◊ Adhere the tear-away stabilizer to the wrong side of the felt.
  - ◊ Place water-soluble stabilizer on the top.
  - ◊ Hoop all three layers together in the embroidery hoop.
  - ◊ Embroider your desired design on the felt.
  - ◊ Gently tear away the excess stabilizer.

step two

- Using the template on page 4
  - ◊ Cut six sides (three per shoe) on the fold.
  - ◊ Cut six bottoms (three per shoe).
  - ◊ Cut two tops. For embroidered moccasins, center the designs on the moccasin top pieces.

Tip: For the tri-color effect shown in the photos, layer three different colors of felt for the sides and bottoms of the moccasins.

step three

- Layer three pieces of cut felt for each moccasin bottom and side.

Tip: On my BERNINA 580, I used basting stitch #21. If your machine doesn't have a basting stitch, use a straight stitch with the length set as long as possible.

step four

- Sew the moccasin top to the moccasin side, matching the center notches as marked on the pattern pieces, using a  $\frac{1}{4}$ "-wide seam allowance.
- Repeat for the second moccasin.

step five

- Sew the moccasin bottom to the moccasin side, again matching the center notches as marked on the pattern pieces, using a  $\frac{1}{4}$ "-wide seam allowance.
- At the back of the moccasin, sew where the side felt overlaps.
- Repeat for the second moccasin.

step six

- Fold down the fringe area of the side fabric and topstitch 1" from the front edge of the moccasin. This will help the fringe lay flat.
- Cut fringe in strips approximately  $\frac{1}{4}$ " wide.
- Remove the basting stitches. You're all done!
